iota[™]

// nutritional bodycare

iota is the first smart microbiome body care designed with both complete functional + microbiome benefits for skin in one. The collection combines premium face-grade actives with 47 vitamins, minerals and adaptogens from globally sourced plant-based ingredients — powerful, targeted treatments for glow, firmness and aging.

The collection combines clinically proven superfoods and superplants like seaweed, pineapple and papaya with exotic new botanicals like Vietnamese rambutan, Japanese indigo leaf, szechuan pepper, adaptogenic shiitake and reishi mushrooms, and Egyptian chamomile flower. Core to each formulation is a prebiotic + postbiotic composition for skin microbiome health — key to treating skin concerns, optimizing appearance, and whole body health.

All iota formulations are vegan and gluten free, sulfate, phthalate & paraben free, EU compliant, Leaping Bunny Certified, dermatologist & clinically tested. Exceptional for all skin types.

// our story

Hi,

I'm Monique, the co-founder of iota. The importance of health is not lost on me. I spent years trying to get pregnant via acupuncture and hormone medication. When I finally got pregnant, doctors found a tennis-ball sized tumor on my pancreas (thankfully all is ok). Then I was diagnosed with high blood pressure for reasons unknown. With age and becoming a mom, I wanted to find small (realistic) lifestyle changes that could still make a difference.

Skin health is arguably the key pillar of health most overlooked today. Just like sleep, eating right and exercise, it's essential for whole body health, and more studies are finding its link to bigger issues like autoimmune disease and heart health.

This is why iota exists. Our mission is to address skin health head on with bodycare that combines functional face-grade benefits with core microbiome support — a foundation of skin and whole body health.

To your health,
Monique Meneses
